I am a proponent of interoperability of video relay service (VRS) to its fullest extent. When users have limited capacity to VRS because of free product given by the provider, the meaning of functional equivalence becomes lost. Please keep functional equivalence in mind when it comes to funding VRS.